

FOUR CORNERS DEBATE

Where do you stand?

Students choose which corner best represents their viewpoint in view of their research and the activities and worksheets they have already completed. They may change corners during the debate if they change their mind, but they may not stand in the middle.

